SHINING IN HERE

Take all your sadness to the street thru the veins of neon/american night for a taste of something with a bite restless appetite
for a taste of something with a bite
and there's always a party we may never go to bed
lose all your nightcares in a crowd (hello sister)
hello sister can I watch you walk (hello sister)
hello sister can I hear you talk?
I can't hear you anyway
and there's always a party
face in every hallway sign on every door
stranger needs a party
party needs a whore
melancholy baby
sing it once again
lover, lover, lover leave me in the end
there must be a full moon and it's shining in here take all your inspirations home
write it all down technicolor bright all the sadness of the night there must be a full moon and it's shining in here
